BRAINERD HUNTER IS FOUND DEAD

JEROME MARTINEAU, ACCIDENTAL VICTIM OF HIS OWN SHOTGUN

FOUND DEAD THIS MORNING ON
STONER DAM ROAD
NEAR BRAINERD

CORONER CALLED AND DE-CLARES IT ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

Jerome Martineau, a retired farmer residing at 1717 Maple street, was found dead with a shotgun wound in his side at 8:30 o'clock this Thursday morning about two miles southwest of Brainerd on the Stoner dam road, by William McCabe, a farmer who was driving into the city.

Martineau owns a farm two and one-half miles from town on this same road, with a tenant living upon it. He had gone out to this farm on Wednesday evening on a hunting trip and had stayed there all night.

After breakfast he decided to walk back to Brainerd, and carrying his shotgun with him, left the farm about eight o'clock. His body was found by Mr. McCabe half an hour later about half a mile from Martineau's farm. It is believed that the shooting was accidental. From appearances it is thought that Martineau, who was not in good health, had stopped to rest, and was possibly standing and leaning on the gun. How it was discharged is only a matter of conjecture. The entire charge entered the man's side below his arm.

When found the gun was lying nearby, and the guncase tucked in Martineau's belt. The gun is a double barreled weapon, 12 guage, made by the Bayard Arms Company. Both barrels had been loaded, and the cartridge in one discharged.

Mr. McCabe when he found the body hurried to the city and notified Coroner D. E. Whitney who went at once to the scene of the accident. Mr. Whitney believes it to be an accidental shooting and so pronounced it in his verdict.

Jerome Martineau was born in Kankakee, Ill., and was 66 years old. He came to Minnesota when two years of age, and has lived at Belle Prairie from that time until five years ago, when he purchased the farm south west of Brainerd and came to this city to reside. He made his home here with his sister, Mrs. Fred Potvin, 1717 Maple street.

He was married at Belle Prairie to Miss Marie Poissant, who preceded him in death in 1918. There were no children. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Potvin, of Brainerd, and five brothers, Charles, of Detroit, Minnesota, Joseph, of Port Ripley, Armadace, of Little Falls, Edward, of Grand Rapids, Minnesota, and Mitchell, of Brainerd. There are a number of grandchildren. In addition to his relatives, Mr. Martineau leaves a large circle of friends, especially at Belle Prairie, who will mourn his loss, and by whom he will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Potvin's daughter, and her husband, A. J. Beauchaine, live on Mr. Martineau's farm, and it was his habit to walk out there occasionally to see them, often spending the night there.

Mr. Martineau had not been well for some little time, suffering from heart trouble, and his physician told him on Wednesday that he would have to be very careful and take very good care of himself. This morning, Mrs. Beauchaine states, he seemed to be feeling a little worse than usual, although he ate quite a hearty breakfast. She believes that it is possible that he may have felt a heart attack while walking to town, and had stopped to rest when the fatal accident occurred.

No funeral arrangements have as yet been made, pending word from relatives, but it is expected that the funeral will be held on Saturday from St. Francis Catholic church, of which the deceased was a member.

2 KILLED, 1 DYING AS GREAT NORTHERN TRAIN HIT CAR

Minot, N. D., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Hans Spilde and his daughter, Lillian, 22, are dead and Bessie, another daughter, lies seriously injured in a hospital here as result of an accident late yesterday near Simcoe.

They were driving a light sedan and apparently failed to see the approach of a Great Northern train on the cutoff southeast of here. Their car was struck squarely by the train as they drove on to the crossing.

Spilde was a farmer living near Simcoe.

DENIES THE TRANS-PACIFIC AD-VENTURE HAS BEEN MIS-MANAGED

SAYS HE HAD PRACTICAL CON-TROL OF THE WHOLE
FLIGHT

By HAROLD SWISHER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Commander John Rodgers of the Hawaiian flight seaplane PN9-1 today denied charges of Colonel William Mitchell, army air critic, that the trans-Pacific adventure had been mismanaged.

Pausing for a moment in San Francisco's welcome to the returned crew, Rodgers refuted Mitchell's claim that high naval officers who planned the flight were responsible for the seaplane being forced down 300 miles from its goal.

"If there was anything wrong with the administration of this flight I was morally responsible," Rodgers said. "I had practical control of the whole situation in preparing for the flight. Everything done was submitted to me first for suggestions before the orders were given."

Rodgers does not blame the U. S. S. Arctostook for giving the PN9-1 wrong bearings shortly before the plane was forced into the water.

"It is all that could have been expected from radio bearings," he said. "Had I routed the plane according to my own beliefs of our course we would have found the Arctostook, refueled and gone on."

Had the flight been started one day later, it would have been successful, Rodgers believes. There was a good wind the second night which would have speeded the plane on its course, he explained.

RODGERS CAME HOME TODAY

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Commander John Rodgers and his crew of the seaplane PN9-1 came home today, unsuccessful in their attempted flight, but heroes none the less.

Soared to the city from which they sailed less than a month ago, confident of reaching the islands by air, the five naval flyers returned aboard the Dreadnaught Idaho.

San Francisco welcomed them, expressing the nation's regard for their bravery.

Shortly after the breakfast hour, the Idaho steamed through the Golden Gate. Crowds along the Presidio Heights waved a welcome to the vessel and the aviators it bore, men, who drifted for nine days in tropical waters after their aircraft had run out of gasoline and were saved when rescue seemed impossible.

X-RAY TREATMENT TO CURE THE COOK COUNTY SCANDAL

ADMINISTERED TODAY BY THE FEDERAL GOVERN-MENT

BROAD CHARGES MADE ARE TO BE THOROUGHLY
AILED

By EARL J. JOHNSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Sept. 24.—X-ray treatment to cure the Cook county jail scandal was administered today by the federal government.

The result of the contempt inquiry starting in the court of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson is expected to show up the truth in these broad charges:

1. That the "beer trust" controls the jail.

2. That politicians with influence are "bought" by the so-called beer barons and called to the support of any "King of Suds" who may be incarcerated.

3. That the foregoing conditions made it possible for Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake, millionaire brewer and beer runner, to make a playhouse of the historic old prison during their terms there for violating the Volstead act.

4. That Druggan paid $20,500 to a politician and former warden of the jail for his "princely privileges."

5. That Druggan and Lake, while in jail, lived a life of comfort and luxury, going and coming as they pleased, visiting Mrs. Druggan, Terry's wife, in her elaborate North Shore apartment, attending business meetings at their brewery and being driven anywhere they chose by private chauffeurs.

In today's hearing, Sheriff Peter Hoffman, who has fired two jail wardens and three guards in an unsuccessful attempt to curtail the freedom of Druggan and Lake, must show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court.

Druggan and Lake must show cause why they should not serve their sentences over again as regular prisoners.

Wesley Westbrook, former warden, took the witness stand in the federal probe of Cook county jail conditions today, holding Sheriff Peter Hoffman responsible for the Druggan-Lake scandal.

Hoffman, who fired Westbrook for the alleged special privileges accorded prisoners Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake, "Barons of Beer," himself ordered Westbrook to give the men comfortable beds and special care in the jail hospital, the former warden declared.

Morris Eller, Chicago political leader, sat in the same room with the warden and the sheriff when the order was given, Westbrook said, implying that Hoffman was under Eller's influence.

Westbrook, fortified with stenographic copies of all the conversations with Druggan and Lake and with copies of the jail log and other documents, was on the stand when court recessed for lunch and was expected to be the only witness to testify at today's session.

Westbrook's attorney read from the jail log that during their several months in jail Druggan and Lake had 170 visitors.

The former warden denied that he had ever received any money from Lake or Druggan for alleged special privileges.

DEBT CONFERENCE AS COVERED BY UNITED PRESS

Arrangements have been made by the United Press for American publication of the dispatches of Georges Schilling, noted French political correspondent, during the French debt funding conference which opens in Washington today.

Mr. Schilling came to this country to cover the conference for the Agence Radio of Paris. Through his dispatches, which will be filed for distribution to the leading French newspapers, readers of The Dispatch will be able to observe the direct French reaction to negotiations of the diplomatic conference.

Dispatches of Mr. Schilling, as carried by the United Press, will not be written for American consumption but will be direct translations of his cables as sent to Paris for French consumption.

W. J. Losh, assisted by members of the regular United Press Washington staff, will furnish complete news and feature coverage on the debt conference.

Mr. Losh is one of the best informed correspondents in Washington on international affairs and with the supplemental dispatches of Mr. Schilling the United Press dispatches on the conference will be complete in every respect.

SEEK TO GET SOFT COAL MINERS OUT ON STRIKE

CALL ISSUED TO THE NON-UNION
MINERS OF WEST VIRGINIA

INVITED TO JOIN UNITED MINE WORKERS OF DISTRICT,
$10 INITIATION

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 24.—(UP) With a strike call to the non-union miners of northern West Virginia effective Friday and a gigantic mass meeting of mine workers and leaders at Fairmont on Saturday, the bituminous coal fields of this section are again in the limelight.

The strike call, issued by Van A. Bitner, international representative of the United Mine Workers in this district, is another effort to call out the men who are working on the non-union plan. They have been invited to join the union and the initiation fee has been reduced to $10 to all who join by September 26. The union is anxious to reduce the production tonnage of West Virginia coal fields, which has mounted steadily since the anthracite strike went into effect.

John L. Lewis and other mine leaders, will address the Fairmont rally.

ENTRAPPED FRENCH GARRISON ATE TOUGH MULE STEAK

By MINOT SAUNDERS
United Press Staff Correspondent

Paris, Sept. 24.—Their horses and mules slaughtered to make food for the brave defenders and to save the meager store of water, the French garrison entrapped in the Souleia fortress for many weeks, has been relieved by the timely arrival of 5,000 French soldiers.

The garrison of 500 men had been under siege from the Druse tribesmen ever since the latter revolted against what they called the domination of France in the French-Syrian mandate.

Pounded daily with cannon fire and unable to venture forth the garrison was on the verge of starvation when the column under General Gamelin arrived.

"DEAD" HUSBAND COMES TO LIFE, "WIDOW" ALARMED

POLICE PROTECTION ACCORDED
POOT HOME IN MINNE-
APOLIS

HUSBAND IS AN ESCAPED LUNA-
TIC FROM INSANE
ASYLUM

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Police guarded Mrs. Christian D. Poot and her children from the husband and father, whose funeral they attended three weeks ago.

The body of a man, who apparently had died from a bullet wound in the head, was found near Lake Harriet here on September 1. He was later identified as Christian D. Poot, escaped inmate of the state hospital for the insane at Rochester.

Although the identification was uncertain because of the decomposed condition of the body, the coroner was satisfied. His records show that Poot died a violent death, that his body was claimed by the widow and that he was duly buried.

The incident was officially closed. The search for the missing inmate was forgotten.

Then Mrs. Poot received a box of candy, some religious papers and a note in her husband's handwriting, "For you and the children—may God bless you always."

She appealed to police for protection from her dead and buried husband, whom she says has often threatened her with violence.

Police officials are guarding the Poot home, state officials are continuing search for the escaped lunatic and the coroner is reopening the investigation of the Lake Harriet mystery.

MILL CITY CORONER CHANGES RECORDS

Minneapolis, Sept. 24.—Christian Poot, buried here almost a month ago following discovery of a body with a bullet wound in the head near Lake Harriet, today became Edward Simon, Nebraska, the coroner's records show.

Mrs. Christian Poot identified the body as that of her husband soon after it was found. So it was buried as Poot, an escaped inmate from the hospital for the insane at Rochester, Minn.

This week Mrs. Poot received a box of candy, enclosing a note in her husband's handwriting. She applied for police protection from Poot who has often threatened her with violence.

The coroner changed his records to show Poot alive and Edward Simon, a Nebraska farm worker, the bullet victim.

The dead man's shirt had borne the name Simon and communication with the man's former employer convinced him the identification was correct.

BOY OF 10 KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Beaver Dam, Wis., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Alfred Ehrler, 19, was killed here last night when the stalled automobile which he and his father and brother were pushing along a street here, was struck by a machine driven by Philip Luck. He was knocked to the pavement. He died while being taken to a hospital. A coroner's inquest will be held today.

KILLED TRYING TO CLIMB OVER FREIGHT

Moorhead, Minn., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Henry O. Brokmeier, 42, was killed here today while trying to climb over a moving freight train, he was dragged two blocks. His head and hands were severed.

Brokmeier, a laborer had been a resident of Moorhead more than 20 years. He leaves a widow and five children.

LOST CAR LINKS FUR THEFT WITH CHGO. UNDERWORLD

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(UP)—An abandoned automobile has linked the $10,000 Green Bay, Wis., fur robbery with the Chicago underworld.

The coupe abandoned by the fur burglars, was stolen in a hold up in Chicago Monday night. This has caused Chicago authorities to attack the solution of the robbery by keeping watch for possible disposition of the furs here.

The burglary was the sixth in Green Bay this year, which has left a trail to Chicago.

NEW BUT VAGUE EVIDENCE IN COOK MURDER MYSTERY

AUTHORITIES THINK IT UNLIKE-
LY TEMPERANCE WORKER
KILLED BY BOOTLEGGER

THEY REFUSED, HOWEVER, TO REVEAL ANY CLUES THEY HAD OBTAINED

Vinton, Ia., Sept. 24.—(UP)—New but vague evidence cropped out in the temperance murder mystery here today.

Mrs. Hester Stieling, 55, was quizzed in connection with the assassination of Mrs. Myrtle U. Cook, president of the County Women's Christian Temperance Union chapter.

After a brief examination of Mrs. Stieling yesterday, officials said it now appears unlikely that Mrs. Cook was shot by some bootlegger whose activities her temperance campaign may have curtailed. They refused, however, to reveal their new clues, explaining only that Mrs. Stieling's story had thrown new light on the mystery.

Mrs. Stieling lived in the same rooming house with C. B. Cook, husband of the slain woman, a month ago in Sioux City. She said she was a friend of Cook, authorities said.

Cook also was questioned again in the new flurry of investigation.

Officials said they attached little importance to the confession of Mrs. S. C. Kleckner, minister's wife, that she ordered her husband to leave town in a note signed "K. K. K." which she had tacked on the door of the parsonage.

The warning caused a sensation shortly after the Cook murder because Mrs. Kleckner, as an official of the ladies branch of the Ku Klux Klan, had assisted in Mrs. Cook's funeral.

Officials said Mrs. Kleckner gave no motive for issuing the warning to her husband.

IS CHARGED WITH ENTERTAINING WOMEN IN DISHABILE

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Three women, said to be prominent in San Antonio society, were summoned today as witnesses in the secret court martial trial of Captain Walter Blaylock of the first infantry, charged with entertaining women in dishabille in his quarters. Utmost secrecy is being maintained at the trial which is said to be producing sensational testimony.

LOWDEN MADE MEMBER OF THE CHIPPEWA TRIBE

Walker, Minn., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, paused in his determined pursuit of northern Minnesota fishing long enough to become a member of the Chippewa tribe of Indians.

The ceremony took place at Walker, after a dinner, attended by 75 of Lowden's friends. He had been fishing at Leech lake, near Walker.

FRENCH DEBT TO BE SETTLED BY FINANCE EXPERTS

AMERICAN CONDITION REGARD-
ING BONDS FINANCED

FRENCH VIEW OF THEIR FINAN-
CIAL DIFFICULTIES
PICTURED

By WILLIAM J. LOSH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept. 24.—Andrew J. Mellon, secretary of the treasury of the United States and a genius of American finance, and Joseph Caillaux, finance minister of France and a political meteor of his nation, met across a table in the treasury department today to settle the French debt.

Around and behind each in a small conference room were grouped men of each nation, experts in finance, economics, diplomacy and statecraft, alive to the hard facts of commerce and sensitive to the currents of opinion with which they must contend—the debt commissions of France and the United States.

The stake at issue, between these two men and between their countries is a matter of $4,200,000,000. After seven years the obligation is to be adjusted.

American View
Involved in this vast sum, one of the greatest international debts of the world, are the countless millions of dollars—$3,340,516,043.72, dug up by farmers in the fields laborers in the factories and shipyards and clerks in offices in short the American people, out of the savings accounts and hidden hoards "until it hurts" in the feverish days of war, for Liberty bonds and loaned to France. Involved too, are $870,040,904.55 more, which these same people once again at peace and prosper-

SEERESS PAINTS GLOOMY PICTURE FOR CAILLAUX

Washington, Sept. 24.—(UP)—A gloomy picture of debt funding deliberations between representatives of the United States and France was painted today for Joseph Caillaux, head of the French mission, by Miss Belle Bard, director of the Academy of Astrology of New York at a private seance here.

Miss Bard informed Caillaux at the French embassy that negotiations would be "anything but harmonious" and sharp controversies would flare up at frequent intervals. She warned him to be cautious about his activities on either September 27 or 28.

"She is a lovely woman," said Caillaux, after the interview, which he personally requested by radio from mid-ocean. "What she told me was amusing."

But beyond this he refused to go.

ous at their work dug up year by year to meet interest payments on this same sum, the American commissioners have in mind.

The French View
A different picture is in the minds of the French:
A nation once with a dagger held at her heart by enemies, laboriously rebuilding great areas devastated by invading hordes; 5,500,000 dead and wounded, a national debt approaching $4,000,000,000, creditors pressing for money loaned, with a way to prosperity to be found.

Both sides are confident that an agreement will be reached and soon. Caillaux has reservations aboard a steamer sailing from New York for France October 3. Hence he believes the negotiations will reach a stage within nine working days that will warrant his return.

The proceedings got underway at 10 A. M. today in a conference room close to Mellon's office at the treasury department, the first session being given over to an exchange of statements between Caillaux and Mellon, followed by an afternoon session at which the agenda of the meeting and the mode of procedure are to be laid out. POLICE PROTECTION ACCORDED
APOLIS

HUSBAND IS AN ESCAPED LUNA-
TIC FROM INSANE
ASYLUM

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 23.—

(UP)—Police guarded Mrs. Christian D. Poot and her children from the husband and father, whose funeral they attended three weeks ago.

The body of a man, who apparently had died from a bullet wound in the head, was found near Lake Harriet here on September 1. He was later identified as Christian D. Poot, escaped inmate of the state hospital for the insane at Rochester.

Although the identification was uncertain because of the decomposed condition of the body, the coroner was satisfied. His records show that Poot died a violent death, that his body was claimed by the widow and that he was duly buried.

The incident was officially closed. The search for the missing inmate was forgotten.

Then Mrs. Poot received a box of candy, some religious papers and a note in her husband's handwriting. "For you and the children—may God bless you always."

She appealed to police for protection from her dead and buried husband, whom she says has often threatened her with violence.

Police officials are guarding the Poot home, state officials are continuing search for the escaped lunatic and the coroner is reopening the investigation of the Lake Harriet mystery.

MILL CITY CORONER CHANGES RECORDS

Minneapolis, Sept. 24.—Christian Poot, buried here almost a month ago following discovery of a body with a bullet wound in the head near Lake Harriet, today became Edward Simon, Nebraska, the coroner's records show.

Mrs. Christian Poot identified the body as that of her husband soon after it was found. So it was buried as Poot, an escaped inmate from the hospital for the insane at Rochester, Minn.

This week Mrs. Poot received a box of candy, enclosing a note in her husband's handwriting. She applied for police protection from Poot who has often threatened her with violence.

The coroner changed his records to show Poot alive and Edward Simon, a Nebraska farm worker, the bullet victim.

The dead man's shirt had borne the name Simon and communication with the man's former employer convinced him the identification was correct.

BOY OF 10 KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Beaver Dam, Wis., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Alfred Ehrlert, 19, was killed here last night when the stalled automobile which he and his father and brother were pushing along a street here, was struck by a machine driven by Philip Lueck. He was knocked to the pavement. He died while being taken to a hospital. A coroner's inquest will be held today.

KILLED TRYING TO CLIMB OVER FREIGHT

Moorhead, Minn., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Henry O. Brokmeier, 42, was killed here today while trying to climb over a moving freight train, he was dragged two blocks. His head and hands were severed.

Brokmeier, a laborer had been a resident of Moorhead more than 20 years. He leaves a widow and five children.

* LOST CAR LINKS FUR THEFT WITH CHGO. UNDERWORLD *

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(UP)—An abandoned automobile has linked the $10,000 Green Bay, Wis., fur robbery with the Chicago underworld.

The coupe abandoned by the fur burglars, was stolen in a hold up in Chicago Monday night. This has caused Chicago authorities to attack the solution of the robbery by keeping watch for possible disposition of the furs here.

The burglary was the sixth in Green Bay this year, which has left a trail to Chicago.

NEW BUT VAGUE EVIDENCE IN COOK MURDER MYSTERY

AUTHORITIES THINK IT UNLIKE-
LY TEMPERANCE WORKER
KILLED BY BOOTLEGGER

THEY REFUSED, HOWEVER, TO
REVEAL ANY CLUES THEY HAD OBTAINED

Vinton, Ia., Sept. 24.—(UP)—New but vague evidence cropped out in the temperance murder mystery here today.

Mrs. Hester Steling, 55, was quizzed in connection with the assassination of Mrs. Myrtle U. Cook, president of the County Women's Christian Temperance Union chapter.

After a brief examination of Mrs. Steling yesterday, officials said it now appears unlikely that Mrs. Cook was shot by some bootlegger whose activities her temperance campaign may have curtailed. They refused, however, to reveal their new clues, explaining only that Mrs. Steling's story had thrown new light on the mystery.

Mrs. Steling lived in the same rooming house with C. B. Cook, husband of the slain woman, a month ago in Sioux City. She said she was a friend of Cook, authorities said.

Cook also was questioned again in the new flurry of investigation.

Officials said they attached little importance to the confession of Mrs. S. C. Kleckner, minister's wife, that she ordered her husband to leave town in a note signed "K. K. K." which she had tacked on the door of the parsonage.

The warning caused a sensation shortly after the Cook murder because Mrs. Kleckner, as an official of the ladies branch of the Ku Klux Klan, had assisted in Mrs. Cook's funeral.

Officials said Mrs. Kleckner gave no motive for issuing the warning to her husband.

IS CHARGED WITH ENTERTAINING WOMEN IN DISHABILLE

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Three women, said to be prominent in San Antonio society, were summoned today as witnesses in the secret court martial trial of Captain Walter Blaylock of the first infantry, charged with entertaining women in dishabille in his quarters. Utmost secrecy is being maintained at the trial which is said to be producing sensational testimony.

LOWDEN MADE MEMBER OF THE CHIPPEWA TRIBE

Walker, Minn., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, paused in his determined pursuit of northern Minnesota fishing long enough to become a member of the Chippewa tribe of Indians.

The ceremony took place at Walker, after a dinner, attended by 75 of Lowden's friends. He had been fishing at Leech lake, near Walker.

FRENCH DEBT TO BE SETTLED BY FINANCE EXPERTS

AMERICAN CONDITION REGARD-
ING BONDS FINANCED
IS GIVEN

FRENCH VIEW OF THEIR FINAN-
CIAL DIFFICULTIES
PICTURED

By WILLIAM J. LOSH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept. 24.—Andrew J. Mellon, secretary of the treasury of the United States and a genius of American finance, and Joseph Caillaux, finance minister of France and a political meteor of his nation, met across a table in the treasury department today to settle the French debt.

Around and behind each in a small conference room were grouped men of each nation, experts in finance, economics, diplomacy and statecraft, alive to the hard facts of commerce and sensitive to the currents of opinion with which they must contend—the debt commissions of France and the United States.

The stake at issue, between these two men and between their countries is a matter of $4,200,000,000. After seven years the obligation is to be adjusted.

American View
Involved in this vast sum, one of the greatest international debts of the world, are the countless millions of dollars—$3,340,516,043.72, dug up by farmers in the fields laborers in the factories and shipyards and clerks in offices in short the American people, out of the savings accounts and hidden hoards "until it hurts" in the feverish days of war, for Liberty bonds and loaned to France. Involved too, are $870,040,904.55 more, which these same people once again at peace and prosper-

SEERESS PAINTS GLOOMY PICTURE FOR CAILLAUX

Washington, Sept. 24.—(UP)—A gloomy picture of debt funding deliberations between representatives of the United States and France was painted today for Joseph Caillaux, head of the French mission, by Miss Belle Bard, director of the Academy of Astrology of New York at a private seance here.

Miss Bard informed Caillaux at the French embassy that negotiations would be "anything but harmonious" and sharp controversies would flare up at frequent intervals. She warned him to be cautious about his activities on either September 27 or 28.

"She is a lovely woman," said Caillaux, after the interview, which he personally requested by radio from mid-ocean. "What she told me was amusing."

But beyond this he refused to go.

ous at their work dug up year by year to meet interest payments on this same sum, the American commissioners have in mind.

The French View
A different picture is in the minds of the French:

A nation once with a dagger held at her heart by enemies, laboriously rebuilding great areas devastated by invading hordes; 5,500,000 dead and wounded, a national debt approaching $4,000,000,000, creditors pressing for money loaned, with a way to prosperity to be found.

Both sides are confident that an agreement will be reached and soon. Caillaux has reservations aboard a steamer sailing from New York for France October 3. Hence he believes the negotiations will reach a stage within nine working days that will warrant his return.

The proceedings got underway at 10 A. M. today in a conference room close to Mellon's office at the treasury department, the first session being given over to an exchange of statements between Caillaux and Mellon, followed by an afternoon session at which the agenda of the meeting and the mode of procedure are to be laid out. The first concrete (Continued on Page 4)

AIRCRAFT BOARD CONTINUES STUDY OF AVIATION

TO DETERMINE ITS PROPER PLACE IN NATIONAL DEFENSE SYSTEM

PUBLIC SESSIONS OF BOARD HAVE BEEN ADJOURNED TO MONDAY

By WILLIAM J. McEVROY (United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, Sept. 24.—In the seclusion of their officers members of President Coolidge's aircraft board today continued its study of aviation to determine its proper place in our national defense system.

Public sessions of the board have been adjourned until Monday to permit members to make a complete review of all testimony and evidence adduced from the war, navy, post office and commerce departments. Besides refreshing their minds on the multitude of problems already tossed before them, the members will analyze supplementary statements to be delivered today and tomorrow by the army and the navy.

Paramount among the issues raised before the board thus far is Colonel William Mitchell's proposal, the unified air service plan. Both the army and navy have thrown their full weight against any unified service, although General Patrick, army air chief, gave limited approval to the Mitchell plan.

Representatives of the army and navy offered almost identical opposition to the unification. Their major disapproval is based on belief that the air service falls far short of being an independent weapon of war and cannot be regarded as other than an auxiliary of either branch of the service.

Army officials admitted the airplane was indispensable but insisted that its operations and activities must be in close co-operation with other branches of the service.

Although the board has given no outward sign as to how it stands on the single service plan, Mitchell's friends believe chances for its acceptance will increase after the fiery colonel testifies early next week. Mitchell's plan calls for a department of aeronautics on a par with the army and the navy. Mitchell believes development of aviation would then come in rapid strides.

PROVINCE OF A SERVICE CLUB

Topic Discussed at Length by District Governor Roy Marker at Lions Club

GIVE COMMUNITY SERVICE

Get No Pay For the Work, Expect None, Sometimes Criticized Unfairly

The place of a service club in the community and the things that should be expected of such an organization were topics discussed at length by Roy Marker, of Sioux Falls, S. D., district governor of the Lions clubs in Minnesota and the two Dakotas, in an address before the local club at its weekly luncheon Wednesday evening.

"Members of the Lions club are banded together to perform unselfish community service," said Governor Marker. "We get no pay for this work, we expect none. Sometimes we are criticized, usually unfairly, which is to be expected, for no public benefactor, whether an individual or an organization, can work without making at least a few enemies."

"Each Lions club is expected to get behind and assist in every manner possible any movement which has for its purpose community welfare and the upbuilding of the town in which the club is working," said Mr. Marker. "Many clubs do not stop at assisting such activities, but upon their own initiative plan and execute many worthwhile movements that directly benefit the community at large."

"Lionism in an international way has made as one of its major activities for the coming year the assistance of handicapped children" continued the speaker. "And local clubs are urged to work along this line. The men and women of today will pass out of the picture in the course of events, and the boys and girls of the present generation will take their place. It is one of the duties of the Lions club to see that these future men and women do not grow to maturity handicapped if such a condition can possibly be avoided."

"Special attention should be given children afflicted with blindness, crippled children, and any others who have physical or mental handicaps, as well as any who have few opportunities for proper development."

"Fundamentally, it is the purpose of the Lions to make better citizens, better members of every community," continued the speaker, "and it is working with this objective in mind when the handicapped child is given every possible assistance. Carrying the idea still farther, Lions clubs are interesting themselves in the teaching of good citizenship, and in the naturalization of aliens to give them the proper attitude toward citizenship in this great commonwealth."

"It is not alone the excellent theories and principles that a club may foster that makes it a success from the viewpoint of civic service," said Mr. Marker. "It is results that count. Ask yourselves, what have we done for this community? Are we living up to what this community has a right to expect of us? The greatest good can be accomplished where there is absolute harmony among the members of the club, and harmony between the club and the community at large."

Governor Marker congratulated the Brainerd Lions for their activities in community service in the past, especially with reference to farmers in this territory, and also upon the work that the club now has under way, laying special emphasis on the efforts to advertise the Brainerd lake region by interesting the railway companies to the point of giving this district greater publicity. He further urged the club to keep on with its program, even more actively than in the past.

Mr. Marker left Thursday morning, after a tour of the lake district, for Duluth, where he will meet international President Jones, and hold a meeting of all clubs in that portion of the state on Friday. The Brainerd club will send delegates to this meeting.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Northern lights flared and sizzled through the sky at Brainerd at midnight, but the aurora borealis had no effect whatever on the broadcasting from WCCO St. Paul station. Some hundred radio fans heard Topsy and Eva musical comedy numbers without a break. Not a single apple fell while "Tie-ing Apples on the Lilac Trees" was sung.

In Municipal Court

In municipal court Thursday morning Bob Vranich, of Ironton, pleaded guilty to a nuisance charge in having intoxicating liquor in his possession, and was fined $100 or 90 days in jail.

Vranich was also arraigned on a charge of manufacturing liquor and alleging a previous conviction on a similar charge. He waived examination, and was held to the action of district court, bonds being set at $500 cash or $1,000 surety bond.

Peter Burpee, of Platte Lake township, was arraigned on Wednesday, charged with illegal burning upon his land. He was given a trial and found not guilty.

Beck-Erickson

Miss Selma Erickson, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Erickson, North Tenth street, and Charles Beck, of Minneapolis, were married in that city on Saturday, September 19th, Rev. Bunker officiating.

The bride was attired in a gown of pearly satin-backed crepe, with hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. A. W. Johnson, sister of the groom, the matron of honor, wore a dress of rose crepe with hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of roses. A. W. Johnson acted as best man.

Following the ceremony the newlyweds, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, motored to Brainerd where they spent the week end at the home of the bride's mother.

They will make their home in Minneapolis, where Mr. Beck is employed as an automobile mechanic.

ASKED TO EXPLAIN WHY SHENANDOAH WAS ORDERED OUT

WHY DIRIGIBLE WAS SENT ON TRIP AGAINST WISHES OF ITS COMMANDER

"COURT WANTS TO KNOW ALL THE FACTS," SAYS JUDGE ADVOCATE FOLEY

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 24.—(UP)—High naval officials of Washington may be called to explain why the Shenandoah was sent on its western trip against the wishes of Commander Zachary Lansdowne, killed when the big ship broke to pieces over Caldwell, O.

Captain Paul Foley, judge advocate of the court, told questioners that Washington officials would be summoned.

"The court wants all the facts," he said. "Anybody in the possession of facts will be heard and that probably includes the officers responsible for orders directing the Shenandoah's trip."

The Shenandoah disaster inquiry at Lakehurst may be adjourned soon to Washington, it was believed here today.

Admiral E. W. Eberle, naval chief of operations, and Captain A. W. Johnson, assistant chief of the bureau of aeronautics expect to testify before the board regarding their connection with the navy orders that sent the dirigible on her ill-fated trip to the west, but it is said they had received no formal notice from the board.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur was away from Washington on a vacation during August when the arrangements for the trip were devised.

Wreckage Is Studied

The court of inquiry devoted most of today's session to a study of the wreckage, two car loads of which have been brought here and entered as exhibits at the hearing.

Two hours or more were devoted to a theory that the breaking away of the control car was the direct primary cause of the wreck.

Officers said that evidence before them indicated that Commander Lansdowne feared adverse weather conditions in connection with the flight when the ship was held to the ground at Minneapolis for refuelling and at Scott Field, St. Louis. At neither place is there a mooring mast.

It was practically certain that high officials of the navy, including Admiral Eberle, chief of the bureau of operations and heads of the aeronautics bureau would be called as witnesses.

"Probably the court will hear all the officers responsible for the orders for the flight," Captain Paul Foley, judge advocate at the hearing, said. He did not comment, however, on the possibility of moving the hearing to Washington to take the officials' testimony.

After the luncheon recess the court continued to hear testimony which is expected to complete the account of what happened to the Shenandoah before it settled to the ground in wreckage.

459,000 STYLES OF GRINDSTONES TO GET THE AX SOON

Washington, Sept. 24.—(UP)—The grindstone industry took a drastic step today when at a conference at the commerce department an elimination of waste in the trade it agreed to abolish 459,000 existing styles of grinding wheels by July 1, 1926. Users of grindstones need not fear, however, that they will be unduly restricted as there will still remain 253,000 different models after the standardization program goes into effect.

GAINED HARVEST HELP

ACCORDING to George W. Tucker, director of the farm labor division, United States Department of Labor, the harvest labor information bureaus maintained in Minneapolis during the harvest season, under a co-operative management between the Department of Labor and the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association resulted in getting a more equal distribution of harvest hands in the Northwest grain territory than ever before.

Mr. Tucker praised the Minneapolis civic body for its assistance in maintaining the bureaus which were under the immediate supervision of Richard T. Jones, director for Minneapolis of the Employment Service, United States Department of Labor.

Mr. Jones estimated that between 12,000 and 15,000 harvest laborers passed through Minneapolis during the harvest season, bound for the grain fields of the Northwest, and that 4,800 of this number took advantage of the special rates to harvest points offered by the railroads.

"Plans are already being made," said Mr. Tucker, "for the co-operation of the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association and the United States Department of Labor in the distribution of harvest labor to the Northwest next year and an expansion of the program carried out this year is assured."

PERSISTENCY IN ADVERTISING

ONE blow of the hammer does not build a house, says the Glenwood Herald. One smashing advertisement does not build a business. It merely does its share. Each advertisement you publish aims to stimulate the day's trading. And each day's job well done helps to strengthen the foundation of the business for tomorrow and the future. Each advertisement in turn gives strength to the future record.

But to get these benefits, advertising must be kept up as steadily as you expect the business to progress. To weaken in the program because a few advertisements do not create a reputation equal to that of a store which has been building prestige steadily year after year would be as foolish as to stop work on a house because the first blow of the hammer did not do the whole job. The quitter rarely wins a race, but keeping everlastingly at it, in the words of one of the most famous advertising slogans, brings success.

HEAVY TOURIST SEASON

MINNESOTA was visited by a daily average of 180,500 outside tourists during the three and a half months when the season was at its height, according to estimates of the Minnesota state highway department. The months in question were June, July and August and part of September.

This tourist business netted the state a total of $150,000,000 of business, a survey by the department's traffic survey showed. The report is generally considered authentic and as nearly accurate as it is possible to estimate. Only two states, Florida and California, are credited with a greater volume of tourist business during the three months just past.

CAPITAL and labor are getting along well together. It is reported that the Brotherhood Investment Company, a subsidiary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has bought 27,000 acres on the Gulf of Mexico, near Sarasita, Florida. The Brotherhood of Engineers is one of the richest labor organizations in the United States and owns banks, coal mines, and other good investments.

business session will take place tomorrow. President and Mrs. Coolidge will entertain the French delegation at dinner tonight with Senator Borah among the guests.

As to the terms on which the debt will be funded, there was an appalling confusion of ideas today. Both sides have maintained their positions in strictest secrecy. The only definite propositions jutting out of the miasma of conjecture and unofficial estimates was that the final agreement would be based on France's capacity to pay with its future rather than its present capacity the predominant consideration and that the terms of the Belgian settlement would be closely paralleled.

President Coolidge has outspokenly stated that this country requires the principal in full, with leniency as to adjustment of interest and form of payment, according to the financial position of the nation involved.

ITALIAN DEBT FUNDING

Rome, Sept. 24.—The Italian debt funding delegation will sail on the Leviathan from Cherbourg, October 13, for America to follow the example of the Caillaux mission in attempting to arrive at a funding arrangement with America.

DOESN'T WANT AMERICAN DOLLARS USED FOR WAR

Madison, Wis., Sept. 24.—Governor John J. Blaine of Wisconsin today made public a telegram sent by him to President Calvin Coolidge, late yesterday, protesting the settlement of foreign debts until "America has assurances that American dollars will not be used for more war and the murder of helpless, defenseless women and children."

The telegram protests particularly the settlement of French debts, declaring that the "ruthless warfare" France is making on the mountain folks of Morocco "is nothing short of barbarism."

EXCHANGE PLEDGES
OF HONEST INTENTION

Washington, Sept. 24.—Andrew Mellon and Joseph Caillaux, today exchanged pledges of honest intention to arrive at a settlement of the French debt at the negotiations which opened at the treasury department.

A formal proposal is reported to have been submitted by Caillaux and to have been taken at once under consideration by the American commission.

"We know this conference may influence greatly the peace of the world," said Mellon. "We ourselves cannot escape its repercussions. We feel, therefore, the great responsibility resting upon us. It is our duty to reach with you a conclusion in the estimation of each of our peoples fair, and, in the practical test of time, workable."

"In the constructive attitude of the representatives of the two countries who now meet together, a solution will come."

Caillaux, for his part, declared "Now we will go to work as practical men, desirous to come to a settlement satisfactory to all material interests worthy of the past of two great nations, combined in such a way as to fortify peace and help the economic stabilization in the world."

Outstanding in the remarks of Mellon to the first session of the two bodies, which lasted an hour, was a declaration in the debt settlement. "The war is over," he said, "but we minimize neither the burdens France has borne nor the difficulties which menace her future."

"Through the necessity of re-creating her destroyed productivity, through postponement of reimbursement from her destroyer, her present fiscal situation has been permitted to become impaired. We should make allowances for this condition."

"France now faces, however, all the facts under a strong leadership and with the courage which withstood the assaults at Verdun. The condition is not permanent. France will emerge successfully from her difficulties."

Caillaux frankly stated at the outset of the conference that "I have come from France intrusted by my government to meet the obligations of my country towards the United States," thus reaffirming at the council's table France's intention to pay. Members of the French commission, he said, "like myself, have the greatest desire to reach a settlement."

"We do not forget and none in our country will ever forget," he continued, "what we owe to America for her splendid work to end victoriously the war and for the generous help our people received from citizens of the United States in times of need.

"We neither forget and we feel sure nobody on this side of the Atlantic forgets, the ties knotted between both our countries at the end of the 18th century."

Following the exchange of statements, both commissions posed for pictures and then adjourned to the front of the treasury for further photographs beside the statue of Alexander Hamilton. The Frenchmen hurried back to the embassy. Caillaux explaining he had an engagement with a clairvoyant.

The Americans returned to the conference room to resume discussions among themselves.

CAILLAUX MAKES
FUNDING PROPOSAL

Washington, Sept. 24.—A formal proposal for funding the $4,200,000,000 French debt to the United States was laid before the American debt funding commission by Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux today and was immediately taken under consideration by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his associates. It was understood on good authority following the first meeting of the two commissions.

Although all members of both commissions refused to either confirm or deny that such a move had been made, another session of the American commission, with the French absent, has been called for 4 P. M. when the proposal will be discussed.

Tomorrow morning the proposal will be placed before the cabinet with President Coolidge presiding. It is understood, after which the next meeting with the French mission will take place.

The proposal, it is believed, is not completely satisfactory from the American viewpoint, but it is regarded as sufficient basis for consideration by the United States commission.

It is assumed that the French proposal contained an offer of payments on the principal immediately, beginning with one-half of one per cent or about $20,000,000 and gradually increasing to 3 1/2 per cent with small concurrent interest payments and substantial demands for leniency during the initial payments of interest.

FUNDING AGREEMENT
MADE WITH LATVIA

Washington, Sept. 24.—American debt commissioners improved their time today following their meeting with the French debt mission by concluding a funding agreement with Latvia, involving $1,750,000. The terms were identical with those granted Poland, which closely parallels those of the British government.

RETURNS FROM
MAYTAG CONVENTION

B. E. Dunham, of the Brainerd Electric Company, just returned from a big two days Maytag dealer convention at Newton, Iowa, where he visited the factory of the Maytag Company, world's largest manufacturers of washing machines. Mr. Dunham said the trip was by far the most interesting one he had ever taken and told at length about some of the operations in their mammoth manufacturing plant.

Newton, Iowa, is a small town of about 8,500 population but over 1,400 of these people are employed in the Maytag washing machine factory. Probably one of the most interesting things Mr. Dunham told about was the aluminum foundry which is the largest in the world and in which are made the cast aluminum tubs of the Maytag washer. This foundry is considered as the world's most modern aluminum foundry. In it each month approximately 1 1/2 million pounds of aluminum are melted. The workmen's conditions are ideal and every convenience is provided them.

Mr. Dunham reported that the factory is turning out over 800 machines a day and that the Maytag Company has a large six story factory building in construction, which will increase the daily output to more than 1,500 machines. The entire factory has a floor space of over 1 1/2 acres.

"One thing which impressed me very much," Mr. Dunham said, "was the exacting requirements for accuracy which prevailed throughout the factory. All important measurements are made by micrometer gauges and every individual part is subjected to a very rigid system of inspection."

The Maytag Company makes one-third of all the electric washing machines sold and for the past three years has maintained the position of world leadership. Mr. Dunham enjoyed the trip very much as it gave him an opportunity to meet at the convention about 200 other very enthusiastic Maytag dealers from all parts of the United States.

GAINED HARVEST HELP

ACCORDING to George W. Tucker, director of the farm labor division, United States Department of Labor, the harvest labor information bureaus maintained in Minneapolis during the harvest season, under a co-operative management between the Department of Labor and the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association resulted in getting a more equal distribution of harvest hands in the Northwest grain territory than ever before.

Mr. Tucker praised the Minneapolis civic body for its assistance in maintaining the bureaus which were under the immediate supervision of Richard T. Jones, director for Minneapolis of the Employment Service, United States Department of Labor.

Mr. Jones estimated that between 12,000 and 15,000 harvest laborers passed through Minneapolis during the harvest season, bound for the grain fields of the Northwest, and that 4,800 of this number took advantage of the special rates to harvest points offered by the railroads.

"Plans are already being made," said Mr. Tucker, "for the co-operation of the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association and the United States Department of Labor in the distribution of harvest labor to the Northwest next year and an expansion of the program carried out this year is assured."

PERSISTENCY IN ADVERTISING

ONE blow of the hammer does not build a house, says the Glenwood Herald. One smashing advertisement does not build a business. It merely does its share. Each advertisement you publish aims to stimulate the day's trading. And each day's job well done helps to strengthen the foundation of the business for tomorrow and the future. Each advertisement in turn gives strength to the future record.

But to get these benefits, advertising must be kept up as steadily as you expect the business to progress. To weaken in the program because a few advertisements do not create a reputation equal to that of a store which has been building prestige steadily year after year would be as foolish as to stop work on a house because the first blow of the hammer did not do the whole job. The quitter rarely wins a race, but keeping everlastingly at it, in the words of one of the most famous advertising slogans, brings success.

HEAVY TOURIST SEASON

MINNESOTA was visited by a daily average of 180,500 outside tourists during the three and a half months when the season was at its height, according to estimates of the Minnesota state highway department. The months in question were June, July and August and part of September.

This tourist business netted the state a total of $150,000,000 of business, a survey by the department's traffic survey showed. The report is generally considered authentic and as nearly accurate as it is possible to estimate. Only two states, Florida and California, are credited with a greater volume of tourist business during the three months just past.

CAPITAL and labor are getting along well together. It is reported that the Brotherhood Investment Company, a subsidiary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has bought 27,000 acres on the Gulf of Mexico, near Sarasita, Florida. The Brotherhood of Engineers is one of the richest labor organizations in the United States and owns banks, coal mines, and other good investments.

THE STORY THUS FAR

In his quest for gold Pierce Phillips is drawn to the newly discovered gold fields of the Yukon. Having insufficient money to be admitted by the Canadian government, he hires himself out packing provisions over Chilkoot Pass. A chance acquaintance with the McCaskey brothers is passed up as a mere incident on the trail. Poleon Doret, French-Canadian giant, and he are the strongest men on the Pass. Phillips assists an elderly prospector, Tom Linton, and is asked to share his tent at Linderman. Arriving there they find it occupied by a beautiful Norwegian woman who tells them her name is Countess Courteau. She shares their tent that night and then Phillips helps her back to Dyea. At Sheep Camp Phillips again meets the McCaskey brothers and while in their tent they are arrested under suspicion of stealing provisions, and brought to a trial at a miners' meeting.

CHAPTER IV

"Do you mean to tell us you've got a titled witness?" the self-appointed spokesman inquired. His face wore a smile of disbelief; when the prisoner flushed and nodded he called out over the heads of the crowd:

"Countess Courteau!" There was no answer. "Do any of you gentlemen know the Countess Courteau?" he inquired.

"Ho! up!" came a peremptory challenge. "M'sieu Jodge!"

His question was greeted by a general laugh. "Don't let him kid you," cried a derisive voice. "Never heard of her, but I met four kings last night," yelled another.

"Call the Marquis of Queensberry," shouted still a third. "Countess Courteau!" repeated the chairman, using his hands for a megaphone.

The cry was taken up by other throats. "Countess Courteau! Countess Courteau!" they mocked. "Come, Countess! Nice Countess!" Pretty Countess—There was a ribald note to this mockery which caused Phillips' eyes to glow.

"She and the count have just left the palace. Let's get along with the hangin'," one shrill voice demanded.

"You won't hang me!" Phillips retorted, angrily.

"Be not so sure," taunted the acting judge. "Inasmuch as your countess appears to be constituted of that thin fabric of which dreams are made; inasmuch as there is no such animal—"

"Ho! up!" came a peremptory challenge. "M'sieu Jodge!" It was the big French-Canadian whom Pierce had met on the crest of the divide; he came forward now, pushing his resistless way through the audience. "What for you say dere ain't nobody by dat name, eh?" He turned his back to the committee and addressed the meeting. "Wat for you hack lak dis, anyhow? By gosh! I heard 'bout dis lady! She's ol'-timer lak me."

"Well, trot her out. Where is she?"

"She's on her way to Dyea," Pierce insisted. "She can't be far—"

"Poleon Doret was angry. 'I don't listen to no woman be joke 'bout, you hear? Dis boy spik true. He was in Linderman las' night, for I seen him on top of Chilkoot yesterday mysef, wit' pack on his back so beeg as a barn."

"Do you know the accused?" queried the spokesman.

"Poleon turned with a shrug. 'Non! No! But—yes, I know him! I'll bet. Anybody can tell he's homes' boy. By Gar! She's strong feller too—pack lak hell!'"

Pierce Phillips was grateful for this evidence of faith, inconclusive as it was in point of law. He was sorry, thereafter, to see the Frenchman, after replying shortly, impatiently to several senseless cross-questions, force his way out of the crowd and disappear, shaking his head and muttering in manifest disgust at the temper of his townsmen.

But although one friend had gone, another took his place—a champion, by the way, whom Pierce would never have suspected of being such. Protesting by the break in the proceedings, Lucky Broad spoke up:

"Frenchy was right—this kid's on the square," he declared. "I'm the gentleman who gathered his wheat at Dyea—he fairly fed it to me, like he said—so I guess I'm acquainted with him. We're all assembled up to mete out justice, and justice is going to be met, but, say! a sucker like this boy wouldn't know enough to steal!"

It was doubtful if this witness, well-intentioned as he was, carried conviction, for, although his followers took their cue from him and applauded loudly, their very manifestations of faith aroused suspicion among the honest men present.

One of the latter, a red-faced, square-shouldered person, thrust a determined countenance close to Broad's and cried, angrily: "Is that so? Well, I'm for hangin' anybody you boost!"

This sentiment met with such instantaneous second that the confidence-man withdrew precipitately. "Have it your own way," he gave in, with an airy gesture. "But take it from me you're a bunch of boobies. Hangin' ain't a nice game, and the guy that hollers loudest for it is usually the one that needs it worst."

It took some effort on the part of the chairman to bring the meeting to order so that the hearing could be resumed.

EDWARD F. DITHMAR INJECTS HIS ARGUMENTS INTO CAMPAIGN

WILL NOT WAGE ABUSE OR VIL-LIFICATION AGAINST HIS OPPONENT

By J. E. HELFERT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 24.—Urging Wisconsin voters to send a mature man to the senate, who will give the president a helping hand, Edward F. Dithmar, regular republican and independent candidate for United States senator, opened his campaign here last night.

"I do not intend to wage a campaign of abuse and vilification against my opponent," Dithmar said.

Declaring he believed the tax reduction was the foremost issue in the campaign, Dithmar went into detail on his platform, the main points of which follow:

Payment of the allied debt to the United States.

Completion of the St. Lawrence Waterway.

Opposition to the League of Nations.

A World Court with proper reservations.

Opposed to curbing power of supreme court.

Better and more dependable markets for farmers.

Protection of labor from undue exactions.

Adequate support for children's and women's bureaus of the department of labor and the home demonstration work in the department of agriculture.

In the course of his long address, Dithmar cited his past record and declared he placed his candidacy before the people to give them a chance to vote for a man who has had much public experience.

"Why should a young man, who has never held as much as a town, village, state or city office, be lifted bodily over the well known congressmen, state officials and prominent members of the legislature?" Dithmar asked, referring to young Bob LaFollette, the progressive candidate.

THE STORY THUS FAR

In his quest for gold Pierce Phillips is drawn to the newly discovered gold fields of the Yukon. Having insufficient money to be admitted by the Canadian government, he hires himself out packing provisions over Chilkoot Pass. A chance acquaintance with the McCaskey brothers is passed up as a mere incident on the trail. "Poleon" Doret, French-Canadian giant, and he are the strongest men on the Pass. Phillips assists an elderly prospector, Tom Linton, and is asked to share his tent at Linderman. Arriving there they find it occupied by a beautiful Norwegian woman, who tells them her name is Countess Courteau. She shares their tent that night and then Phillips helps her back to Dyea. At Sheep Camp Phillips again meets the McCaskey brothers and while in their tent they are arrested under suspicion of stealing provisions, and brought to a trial at a miners' meeting.

CHAPTER IV

"Do you mean to tell us you've got a titled witness?" the self-appointed spokesman inquired. His face wore a smile of disbelief; when the prisoner flushed and nodded he called out over the heads of the crowd: "Countess Courteau!" There was no answer. "Do any of you gentlemen know the Countess Courteau?" he inquired.

"Hol' up!" came a peremptory challenge. "M'sieu Jodge!"

His question was greeted by a general laugh. "Don't let him kid you," cried a derisive voice.

"Never heard of her, but I met four kings last night," yelled another.

"Call the Marquis of Queensberry," shouted still a third. "Countess Courteau!" repeated the chairman, using his hands for a megaphone.

The cry was taken up by other throats. "Countess Courteau! Countess Courteau!" they mocked. "Come, Countess! Nice Countess!" Pretty Countess! There was a ribald note to this mockery which caused Phillips' eyes to glow.

"She and the count have just left the palace. Let's get along with the hangin'," one shrill voice demanded.

"You won't hang me!" Phillips retorted, angrily.

"Be not so sure," taunted the acting judge. "Inasmuch as your countess appears to be constituted of that thin fabric of which dreams are made; inasmuch as there is no such animal—"

"Hol' up!" came a peremptory challenge. "M'sieu Jodge!" It was the big French-Canadian whom Pierce had met on the crest of the divide; he came forward now, pushing his resistless way through the audience. "Wat for you say dere ain't nobody by dat name, eh?" He turned his back to the committee and addressed the meeting. "Wat for you hack lak dis, anyhow? By gosh! I heard 'bout dis lady! She's ol-timer lak me."

"Well, trot her out. Where is she?"

"She's on her way to Dyea," Pierce insisted. "She can't be far—"

"Poleon Doret was angry. 'I don't listen to no woman be joke 'bout, you hear? Dis boy spik true. He was in Linderman las' night, for I seen him on top of Chilkoot yesterday myse'f, wit' pack on his back so beeg as a barn."

"Do you know the accused?" queried the spokesman.

"Poleon" turned with a shrug. "Non! No! But—yes, I know him. H'l bit. Anybody can tell he's honest boy. By Gar! She's strong feller too—pack lak hell!"

Pierce Phillips was grateful for this evidence of faith, inconclusive as it was in point of law. He was sorry, thereafter, to see the Frenchman, after replying shortly, impatiently to several senseless cross-questions, force his way out of the crowd and disappear, shaking his head and muttering in manifest disgust at the temper of his townsmen.

But although one friend had gone, another took his place—a champion, by the way, whom Pierce would never have suspected of being such. Profiting by the break in the proceedings, Lucky Broad spoke up.

"Frenchy was right—this kid's on the square," he declared. "I'm the gentleman who gathered his wheat at Dyea—he fairly fed it to me, like he said—so I guess I'm acquainted with him. We're all assembled up to mete out justice, and justice is going to be met, but, say! a sucker like this boy wouldn't know enough to steal!"

It was doubtful if this witness, well-intentioned as he was, carried conviction, for although his followers took their cue from him and applauded loudly, their very manifestations of faith aroused suspicion among the honest men present.

One of the latter, a red-faced, square-shouldered person, thrust a determined countenance close to Broad's and cried, angrily: "Is that so? Well, I'm for hangin' anybody you boost!"

This sentiment met with such instantaneous second that the confidence-man withdrew precipitately. "Have it your own way," he gave in, with an airy gesture. "But take it from me you're a bunch of boobs. Hangin' ain't a nice game, and the guy that hollers loudest for it is usually the one that needs it worst."

It took some effort on the part of the chairman to bring the meeting to order so that the hearing could be resumed.

PIRATES GAIN PENNANT AFTER 16 YEARS

CAREER OF THE PITTSBURGH TEAM UP AND DOWN ONE

HAD FINE CHANCES IN LAST 5 YEARS, BUT FAILED IN PINCHES

WASHINGTON MAY SOON GRAB GONFALON IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 24. — After 16 years of patient waiting, Pittsburgh has another National league championship and within a few hours Washington may be American league champion for the second time.

The Pirates clinched the National league pennant yesterday and the Senators can cop theirs today if they win a double header from the Cleveland Indians and if the Philadelphia Athletics are dropped by the St. Louis Browns.

The Senators need the equivalent of only three more games in their final 11 to make it impossible for them to lose.

The career of the Pirates since Fred Clarke won the pennant with them in 1909, has been full of its ups and downs and there are only two men on the team now who were with the old champions, Fred Clarke, who came back as assistant manager of the team, and Babe Adams, the 43 year old veteran who is still pitching.

The trials of the club were particularly trying in the last five years when they had fine chances to nose out the New York Giants, but always fell just a little bit shy. In 1921, they blew a seven game lead late in the season and finished in second place behind the Giants. In 1922 they tied with the St. Louis Cardinals for third place and in 1923 and 1924 they finished third.

Very few of the critics gave the Pirates a chance last spring as the Cincinnati Reds were considered to have the best opportunity to keep the Giants from winning their fifth straight pennant. The trade which brought Aldridge, Grantham and Niehaus from Chicago for Grimm, Maranville and Cooper did not look good on the surface and the team came from the training camp in terrible shape.

Although they were in the cellar and looked to be demoralized, John McGraw kept insisting that the Pirates were the strongest opposition he had and that he would have to beat them to win the pennant.

The club did not start moving until early May but their advancement was steady and on June 19, they went into first place for the first time. It was then a battle between the Pirates and the Giants in which they exchanged possession of first place about five times. Since August 2 the Pirates have been in possession of the lead.

The Pirates are a popular team of young players and fine sportsmen. They have never been in trouble on or off the field and they will be a popular color bearer for the National league in the world's series.

DULUTH FOOTBALL TEAM TO PLAY THE KANSAS CITY BLUES

On Sunday, September 27th, the Duluth football club will open its National league schedule by playing the Kansas City Blues, of Kansas City, Missouri. This will be literally a struggle between the North and the South for football honors.

The Blues are coming to Duluth with some of the best football talent developed in that section of the United States. The lineup will include many former college stars as well as the personnel of the Duluth team which remains practically the same as that of last Sunday's game. It is expected that there will be many from over the state in attendance at this game.

BRAINERD PLAYS AT ISLE SATURDAY

GAME FORMS PART OF MILLE LACS COUNTY FAIR PROGRAM

The Brainerd ball team is journeying to Isle on Saturday to engage in a game with the fast Isle baseball club, as part of the Mille Lacs County Fair program.

This game is intended to give a fair line on the team that will represent Brainerd on October 14th against the St. Louis Browns. The Isle team is a fast team, having won most of their games this year.

On Sunday the Isle team will play a return game at Brainerd, starting at 2:30 P. M. Local fans will have a chance to see Brainerd in action for the last time before the big contest on the 14th.

Bucky Jones will do the iron man stunt of pitching both games against Isle on these two successive days. Norman will be behind the plate.

LEO DIEGEL IS SERIOUS THREAT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

FINISHED FIVE UP ON WALTER HAGEN OF PASADENA, FLORIDA

DIEGEL IS CANADIAN OPEN CHAMPION; PLAYS BRILLIANT GOLF

By EDWARD C. DERR
United Press Staff Correspondent

Olympia Fields Country Club, Chicago, Sept. 24.—Leo Diegel of New York became a serious threat for the Professional Golfers association championship here today when he finished 18 holes of golf in the third round, five up on Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Fla.

Diegel, who is Canadian open champion, played golf that could not have been beaten. His drives and approaches shots were dead to the green and on several holes he had such an advantage over Hagen that he made no attempt to sink long putts. He turned in a medal card of 72, two over par.

Hagen was having trouble with his irons and three times pulled his approach shots into traps. His putting also was a bit sloppy.

Their card:

Hagen out.....	655 543 444-40
Hagen in.....	444 364 454-38-78
Diegel out.....	445 443 434-35
Diegel in.....	345 355 444-37-72

Morte Dutra of Aberdeen, Wash., justified the contention of his supporters that he was one of the strongest dark horses entrants by showing his heels to Tommy Armour, the New York star. Dutra was two up on Armour when they came in for lunch.

Wild Bill Mehlhorn of Chicago was running wild in his match with Tom Kerrigan, New York, and was five up after 18 holes of play. Mehlhorn has been playing about the best golf of his career in the present tournament. Mehlhorn had increased his lead over Kerrigan to seven up when they reached the afternoon turn.

Harry Cooper, Dallas, Tex., was all square with Johnny Farrell, another of New York's survivors.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

De Mave Wins from Montgomery

New York—Jack De Mave, New York heavyweight, won from Sully Montgomery, former Center college football star, on a foul in the ninth round. Gunboat Smith, referee, disqualified Montgomery after two warnings.

NORTHWEST BRIEFS

Minneapolis—Israel Wiesberg, 43, was killed Wednesday night, when he was struck by an automobile driven by M. W. Fairburn. Fairburn will report to the county attorney today for questioning.

Thief River Falls—W. W. Pritchard was elected Wednesday to fill the unexpired term of Mayor J. S. Arneson, resigned. Mayor Pritchard is 37 years old.

St. Paul—Peter Turgeson, 33, was killed Wednesday night when his automobile caromed off the side of a street car and over turned. Several other cars were narrowly missed by the wrecked machine.

Washington, Sept. 24.—(UP)—Charles McVeagh, attorney of New York City, today was appointed United States ambassador to Japan, the state department announced.

THE SIX-ROUND RULE FOR MINORS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 24.—Many of the rules that are being tried in New York to protect and modernize the boxing game have been subjected to criticism and ridicule for other reasons than pure prejudice.

Perhaps the rule that has been assailed most, especially by managers of boxers, is the one that prohibits a boxer under age from engaging in contests of more than six rounds.

The rule was suggested and incorporated by William Muldoon, a recognized authority on training and physical culture on the ground that a boy is not matured or fully developed until he has reached the age of twenty-one and that accidents happening to boys before they have reached their full developments are more apt to have permanent results.

There are many examples to support both sides of the argument. Considering that many of those who do not believe it is a good rule because they can't get good purses out of their young fighters, the arguments against the rule have to be discounted.

Considering the many angles it is a good rule, but it covers too much ground and it should be administered with common sense. Exceptions can be made to any rule when they are made with good judgment.

The case of Fidel Lebarba, the California flyweight, is the most interesting one brought up by the rule and the one that has caused the most comment and discussion.

Lebarba, a high school boy, several years under his majority, won the flyweight championship from Frankie Genaro, the recognized title-holder and he won it by such a margin that there was no doubt of the validity of his claim to the title.

The New York Boxing commission had been planning to stage an elimination tournament to decide the successor to the late Pancho Villa when Lebarba beat Genaro.

It was pointed out to the commission that Lebarba could only box six rounds because of his age and that as a champion he hardly could be kept out of the tournament.

James A. Farley, the level-headed chairman of the commission, said he hadn't given it much thought but he was of the unofficial opinion that an exception should be made to the rule.

Muldoon said he would not favor any exception or evasion of the rule and declared that Lebarba was not the champion because he wasn't old enough to be a champion.

This was a ridiculous assertion to make and it caused a lot of wise cracks when it was erroneously reported that the commission had ruled against the California boy's claim.

Muldoon was not talking for the commission and the commission up to this time has made no official ruling on the question.

The case of Lebarba, however, has an angle that supports the spirit of the minor rule. He was a four-round fighter as an amateur and Olympic champion and he developed himself as a professional in the four-round game. He did show in the Genaro fight that he could go a distance and take care of himself, but if he had been brought up and developed in fifteen-round fights he might have injured himself.

Then there is the case of Jimmy Slattery, the Buffalo light heavyweight, that overwhelmingly supports the wisdom of the rule. Slattery, under age, was a sensation in six-round fights and he looked so good that veteran boxing writers hailed him as another Corbett and a sure heavyweight champion in a few years.

His first reverse came when he was knocked out by Dave Shade, challenger for the welterweight championship. Friends said that his defeat was the result of vanity and his refusal to take Shade seriously. But the Shade fight has nothing to do with the rule under discussion.

His experience in his fight with Paul Berlenbach has everything to do with the rule, however. He was fighting for the world's light heavyweight championship in the first major contest that might have to take him fifteen rounds.

He was knocked out by Berlenbach in the eleventh round. He wasn't strong enough to spot ten pounds to a hard hitting opponent and go the distance. If it had been a ten-round fight he would not have been stopped although he might not have won the decision.

Slattery's case proved that in one instance, at least, a big youngster is not fully developed even at the age of twenty-one. With flyweights, it is different. A little fellow might be fully developed at the age of seventeen. It is this difference that makes the minor rule so hard to administer.

ALONG THE SIDE LINES

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Michigan will have reserve strength to rely upon. The regular backfield now reads: Friedman, quarter; Fuller and Gregory, halves; and Molenda, full. Domhoff, regular quarter, may be out for the season with injuries.

Iowa City, Ia.—Hulman and Ashenfeiter are being groomed to take the place of Galloway, guard. Kutsch is doing all the passing with Schlirmer, half, and Roney and Smith, ends, receiving.

La Fayette, Ind.—A backfield of triple threat men will be behind a light line at Purdue. Spalding, the basketball star, is skirting the ends, smashing the line and passing promisingly.

Minneapolis—"Tiny" Hyde is expected to regain eligibility and strengthen Minnesota's line. Captain Ascher will go from half to end to give more power to the forward wall and the aerial attack.

Chicago—Neff, guard, who has been out with a hurt rib, is back to help the Maroons. Secret practice has been initiated.

Kernwein, who gets 40 yards regularly, is the best of the punters.

Columbus, O.—Injuries which are keeping six men out of scrimmage are not dampening Ohio State. Karow, who tears up the line, and Wendler, to whom an open field is an invitation, starred in practice.

Blomington, Ind.—While Winston and Sibley, regulars, ran around the track, Ferdie Nessel and Lanman functioned instead in secret practice. Michigan formations and plays were used by the frosh.

Champaign—Regulars eased off while the reserves were drilled. Rusch is calling the signals with Griffith and Schumacher at halves and Froelich at full. Moon Baker is still out with injuries.

Madison, Wis.—The regulars were given a rest while the reserves scrimmaged against each other. Fourteen men were given cardinal jerseys and taken aside for drill in signals and formations.

Cambridge, Mass.—Joe Moglone and Joe Crosby, a sophomore star, may land a place in the Harvard varsity backfield. McGlone who was hurt last year, is being tried at quarter and Crosby in the backfield.

Princeton, N. J.—Sammy Ewing, former Haverford star, who broke into the game against the Navy last year, has been the promising candidate for the Princeton backfield in the early practice. Ewing and Caulkings look to be sure of regular positions.

New Haven, Conn.—After Billy Kline and Eddie Cottle had scored three touchdowns against the scrubs, the Yale coaches were very much encouraged over the backfield problem.

Seagirt, N. J.—Rogers, Leith, Douglas and Krues will start in the Pennsylvania backfield in the first game against Ursinus Saturday.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Glenn Wright, Pittsburgh shortstop, made a fine stop and throw for a double play in the ninth and stopped a rally, the Pirates winning 2 to 1 and clinching the National league pennant.

Home runs in the pinches helped the Athletics take a double header from the Browns. Hale's homer with two on bases won the first game, 6 to 3, and homers by Welch and Hoyt helped win the second, 7 to 3.

Sothoron's pitching dropped the Giants, 8 to 0, in the first game and heavy hitting gave the Cardinals the second, 8 to 2.

J. Garland Braxton, a rookie southpaw blew up in the ninth, after holding the White Sox safe, but Shocker stopped the rally and the Yankees won 7 to 6.

Jahn's double, Munson's triple and a sacrifice fly by Gonzales, gave the Cubs two runs and a 2 to 1 win over the Robins. It was Brooklyn's 10th straight defeat.

Harry Hellman led a heavy attack with three singles and a homer and the Tigers beat the Red Sox 15 to 1. Haney had to be taken to a hospital after Ehmkie hit him on the head with a pitched ball.

Cooney and Genewich turned out some high class pitching and the Damage to the building and equipment was estimated by fire insurance inspectors at $10,000.

PIRATES GAIN PENNANT AFTER 16 YEARS

CAREER OF THE PITTSBURGH TEAM UP AND DOWN ONE

HAD FINE CHANCES IN LAST 5 YEARS, BUT FAILED IN PINCHES WASHINGTON MAY SOON GRAB GONFALON IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 24. — After 16 years of patient waiting, Pittsburgh has another National league championship and within a few hours Washington may be American league champion for the second time.

The Pirates clinched the National league pennant yesterday and the Senators can cop theirs today if they win a double header from the Cleveland Indians and if the Philadelphia Athletics are dropped by the St. Louis Browns.

The Senators need the equivalent of only three more games in their final 11 to make it impossible for them to lose.

The career of the Pirates since Fred Clarke won the pennant with them in 1909, has been full of its ups and downs and there are only two men on the team now who were with the old champions, Fred Clarke, who came back as assistant manager of the team, and Babe Adams, the 43 year old veteran who is still pitching.

The trials of the club were particularly trying in the last five years when they had fine chances to nose out the New York Giants, but always fell just a little bit shy. In 1921, they blew a seven game lead late in the season and finished in second place behind the Giants. In 1922 they tied with the St. Louis Cardinals for third place and in 1923 and 1924 they finished third.

Very few of the critics gave the Pirates a chance last spring as the Cincinnati Reds were considered to have the best opportunity to keep the Giants from winning their fifth straight pennant. The trade which brought Aldridge, Grantham and Niehaus from Chicago for Grimm, Maranville and Cooper did not look good on the surface and the team came from the training camp in terrible shape.

Although they were in the cellar and looked to be demoralized, John McGraw kept insisting that the Pirates were the strongest opposition he had and that he would have to beat them to win the pennant.

The club did not start moving until early May but their advancement was steady and on June 19, they went into first place for the first time. It was then a battle between the Pirates and the Giants in which they exchanged possession of first place about five times. Since August 2 the Pirates have been in possession of the lead.

The Pirates are a popular team of young players and fine sportsmen. They have never been in trouble on or off the field and they will be a popular color bearer for the National league in the world's series.

DULUTH FOOTBALL TEAM TO PLAY THE KANSAS CITY BLUES On Sunday, September 27th, the Duluth football club will open its National league schedule by playing the Kansas City Blues, of Kansas City, Missouri. This will be literally a struggle between the North and the South for football honors.

The Blues are coming to Duluth with some of the best football talent developed in that section of the United States. The lineup will include many former college stars as well as the personnel of the Duluth team which remains practically the same as that of last Sunday's game. It is expected that there will be many from over the state in attendance at this game.

LEO DIEGEL IS SERIOUS THREAT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

FINISHED FIVE UP ON WALTER HAGEN OF PASADENA, FLORIDA

DIEGEL IS CANADIAN OPEN CHAMPION; PLAYS BRILLIANT GOLF

By EDWARD C. DERR United Press Staff Correspondent Olympia Fields Country Club, Chicago, Sept. 24.—Leo Diegel of New York became a serious threat for the Professional Golfers association championship here today when he finished 18 holes of golf in the third round, five up on Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Fla.

Diegel, who is Canadian open champion, played golf that could not have been beaten. His drives and approaches shots were dead to the green and on several holes he had such an advantage over Hagen that he made no attempt to sink long putts. He turned in a medal card of 72, two over par.

Hagen was having trouble with his irons and three times pulled his approach shots into traps. His putting also was a bit sloppy.

THE SIX-ROUND RULE FOR MINORS By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) New York, Sept. 24.—Many of the rules that are being tried in New York to protect and modernize the boxing game have been subjected to criticism and ridicule for other reasons than pure prejudice.

Perhaps the rule that has been assailed most, especially by managers of boxers, is the one that prohibits a boxer under age from engaging in contests of more than six rounds.

ALONG THE SIDE LINES

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Michigan will have reserve strength to rely upon. The regular backfield now reads: Friedman, quarter; Fuller and Gregory, halves; and Molenda, full. Domhoff, regular quarter, may be out for the season with injuries.

Iowa City, Ia.—Hulman and Ashenfelter are being groomed to take the place of Galloway, guard. Kutsch is doing all the passing with Schirmer, half, and Romey and Smith, ends, receiving.

La Fayette, Ind.—A backfield of triple threat men will be behind a light line at Purdue. Spalding, the basketball star, is skirting the ends, smashing the line and passing promisingly.

Minneapolis—"Tiny" Hyde is expected to regain eligibility and strengthen Minnesota's line. Captain Ascher will go from half to end to give more power to the forward wall and the aerial attack.

Chicago—Neff, guard, who has been out with a hurt rib, is back to help the Maroons. Secret practice has been initiated.

Kernwein, who gets 40 yards regularly, is the best of the punters.

Columbus, O.—Injuries which are keeping six men out of scrimmage are not dampening Ohio State. Karow, who tears up the line, and Wendler, to whom an open field is an invitation, starred in practice.

Blomington, Ind.—While Winston and Sibley, regulars, ran around the track, Ferdie Nessel and Lanman functioned instead in secret practice. Michigan formations and plays were used by the frosh.

Champaign—Regulars eased off while the reserves were drilled. Ruch is calling the signals with Griffith and Schumacher at halves and Froelich at full. Moon Baker is still out with injuries.

Madison, Wis.—The regulars were given a rest while the reserves scrimmaged against each other. Fourteen men were given cardinal jerseys and taken aside for drill in signals and formations.

Cambridge, Mass.—Joe Moglone and Joe Crosby, a sophomore star, may land a place in the Harvard varsity backfield. McGlone who was hurt last year, is being tried at quarter and Crosby in the backfield.

Princeton, N. J.—Sammy Ewing, former Haverford star, who broke into the game against the Navy last year, has been the promising candidate for the Princeton backfield in the early practice. Ewing and Caulkings look to be sure of regular positions.

New Haven, Conn.—After Billy Kline and Eddie Cottle had scored three touchdowns against the scrubs, the Yale coaches were very much encouraged over the backfield problem.

BRETSCHY EXPLAINS HIS CANNING FACTORY

Dorchester, Wisconsin Man, is Chief Speaker at Lions Club Meeting

Has Established Canneries in 8 Wisconsin Towns, Putting Them on Solid Basis

Fred Bretschy, of Dorchester, Wisconsin, who is successfully operating a pea canning factory in that village, came to Brainerd on Wednesday and explained the details in connection with the financing, building and operation of such a plant before the Lions club, being invited by that organization to come to the city and present the matter.

Mr. Bretschy explained that he is not a promoter of canning factories, nor even an owner of such an institution, but that he is a canner by profession, and because of his experience in this line has been employed by eight different Wisconsin towns to manage the establishment of canneries and to operate them until they were working on a sound basis.

The village of Dorchester, Wisconsin has a population of only 700, but it now has in operation a pea canning factory which cost about $45,000, owned by residents of the town and by the farmers in that vicinity. This plant has just completed its first year of operation, said Mr. Bretschy, and while the season was an adverse one, and very few first-grade peas were grown, the stockholders will realize about 15 per cent on their investment, and are so well satisfied with the industry that they are planning to enlarge the plant and greatly increase its capacity.

"We canned 35,000 cases of peas this season," said Mr. Bretschy, "from 412 acres of crop. Our biggest day's canning was 80,000 cans, but the average done in a day is about 50,000 cans. Our machines have a capacity of 120 cans per minute when worked to their maximum speed."

A farmer can care for about five acres of peas, continued the speaker, and the average profit per acre is from $40 to $60, after all expenses have been paid, although as high as $150 per acre have been realized in very good years. This is in addition to the dividends realized on the sale of the canned product which this year netted 15 per cent.

A pea canning factory is a wonderful thing for the farmers of any community, contends Mr. Bretschy. In his section of Wisconsin he claims that it has made the farmer financially independent. This result is from two causes. First the farmers had been depending upon potatoes for their cash crop, and potatoes either from poor yields or low prices were not a paying investment year in and year out, while a failure in pea growing has never been known. Also the raising of peas, which are a legume crop, puts fertility into the land instead of taking it out, and is greatly increasing the value of farm lands wherever it is raised.

The district around Dorchester is devoted largely to dairying, and the dairy farmer is especially benefited by raising peas, for the vines make an excellent feed for dairy cattle, and this forage from four or five acres helps in a large way to solve his feeding problems.

Mr. Bretschy, in speaking of the establishment of a pea canning plant in Brainerd, advised against going into the proposition without a thorough investigation of its merits. He strongly urged that a committee of representative business men and farmers visit the canning factory at St. Cloud, which is close by and which is proving a really big success. He also suggested that the committee make the trip to Dorchester to interview both farmers and business men there, who could give them an idea of the part he has played in the establishment of that factory.

He stated that a model plant, one that would handle the crop from about 500 acres, would cost from $35,000 to $45,000, and in good years would pay the stockholders as high as 60 or even 80 per cent on their investment. He is not especially interested in starting a plant in Brainerd for next season, since there are four towns in the vicinity of his home that are planning to have him establish plants for them to handle next year's crop, and he will be kept very busy with that work.

Mr. Bretschy is staying in Brainerd for a day or two, interviewing farmers and business men of this vicinity to gain an idea of whether or not they desire to organize a company and start a canning factory. He will be glad to go into detail in this matter with any and all who are interested.

J. E. O'BRIEN TELLS OF FLORIDA BOOM

Brings Back Interesting Stories of Remarkable Development

EMBARGO ON LUMBER, ETC.

And Practically Every Other Line of Merchandise Except Foodstuffs

J. E. O'Brien, of the Northern Home Furnishing Company, has returned from Miami, Florida, bringing back some interesting stories of the boom that state is enjoying.

An embargo has been placed on building material, and practically every other line of merchandise except foodstuffs, said Mr. O'Brien, passenger trains being sidetracked to give food trains the right-of-way.

There are so many towns springing up on each side of Miami and they are located so close together that it seems like one continuous city about 523 miles in length, from Jacksonville south to Key West.

Train service is being handled just as rapidly as possible, and Mr. O'Brien noted 160 carloads of express matter in the yards at Miami that were as yet unloaded because of the lack of adequate facilities to handle the enormous amount of freight received. Passenger trains carrying 16 sleepers in addition to their regular equipment are not an uncommon sight, and passenger schedules are necessarily slow because of the frequent stops on account of the many towns enroute, some being only about a mile apart.

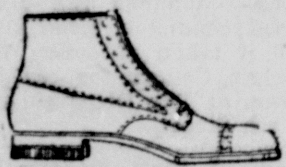

Fourteen buildings were in the course of construction at Miami, each one larger than the Soo Line building in Minneapolis. A very large part of the population of that section of Florida have just arrived in the state, and because of inadequate housing facilities, thousands are living in tents.

Mr. O'Brien saw a revenue cutter chasing a bootlegger's craft in the bay at Miami, which led him to believe that Florida has its liquor difficulties as well as other states. The revenue men quickly overhauled the bootlegger craft.

"GET TOGETHER WEEK" IN CHURCH

First Presbyterian Church Plans Sessions For Mutual Uplift And Help

TO BEGIN SUNDAY SEPT. 27

Rev. Alexander Patterson to Take as His Subject the Book of Genesis

The First Presbyterian church is planning a "Get Together Week" for mutual uplift, beginning on next Sunday, September 27th, and closing on October 4th, continuing through the week every evening at 7:30 o'clock except Saturday.

The history of the Christian church has shown the needs at certain seasons of spiritual awakening, it is contended, and the week's meetings are planned with the thought of helping all who attend.

Rev. Alexander Patterson, the pastor, will take for his subject the book of Genesis, making that book live in the present year, connecting it up with present day experiences.

Miss Alberta Patterson, who has spent considerable time in a trip around the world, will show what progress the gospel is making in other lands. She gave special attention to this while on her trip through Japan, China, Siam, Burma, India, Egypt and the Holy Land. She will take her hearers into those lands and give a very graphic picture of how the people there live, together with some of the efforts that have been made to help them.

One evening Miss Patterson expects to show stereoscopic pictures of Palestine, and on Friday evening, October 2nd, she expects to show curios, costumes and articles procured in the various countries visited, and direct a pageant in which those costumes will be shown.

The meeting will be full of interest from start to finish, and are so planned that all may be greatly helped by attending them. The public is giving a hearty invitation to be present.

II LINOIS MAN IS LOVER OF LAKES

Wm. W. Loomis of LaGrange, Ill., Writes Graphic Articles in His Paper

IS ALSO ARDENT GOLFER

Participated in Big Tourist Tournament Staged by Brainerd Country Club

William W. Loomis, president of the Citizen Publishing Company, of LaGrange, Illinois, which publishes the LaGrange Citizen, writes in that newspaper some very graphic and interesting accounts of the vacation he spent during the past summer in the Brainerd lake region.

Mr. Loomis is an ardent golfer and participated in the big tourist tournament staged by the Brainerd Country club several months ago, being one of the prize winners. In a letter to J. H. Kinkelberg, of the tournament committee, he writes:

"You may recall our talking with you on your Tourists' Golf Day at the Country club, and I told you I would send you clippings of the articles I wrote to the LaGrange Citizen. I am enclosing some of these articles in which you may be interested.

"There were 15 in our party from LaGrange, and all agreed that it was the finest vacation we have ever had. We hope to be back that way again."

In Mr. Loomis' stories to his paper he wrote among other things:

"Tourists are made welcome at all the courses for very modest green fees and at Brainerd a tournament is being put on Sunday for every resort within a hundred miles. The Brainerd people will furnish prizes, all of which go to visitors, and no fees are charged for the day."

"It is just a little investment in hospitality which is making a real hit with the golfers. As the Brainerd course is sandy, white clover does not thrive there, and the fairways are really 'fair.'"

"A person coming to this section for the first time is bewildered by the many lakes. In an hour's drive you pass a dozen lakes that all look enticing and everyone you talk to tells about a fine catch from this, that or the other lake. The lake we are on is six miles from end to end, but it has so many bays, points and islands that it provides a 50 mile shore line."

BRETSCHY EXPLAINS HIS CANNING FACTORY

Dorchester, Wisconsin Man, is Chief
Speaker at Lions Club Meeting

Has Established Canneries in 8 Wisconsin Towns, Putting Them on Solid Basis

Fred Bretschy, of Dorchester, Wisconsin, who is successfully operating a pea canning factory in that village, came to Brainerd on Wednesday and explained the details in connection with the financing, building and operation of such a plant before the Lions club, being invited by that organization to come to the city and present the matter.

Mr. Bretschy explained that he is not a promoter of canning factories, nor even an owner of such an institution, but that he is a canner by profession, and because of his experience in this line has been employed by eight different Wisconsin towns to manage the establishment of canneries and to operate them until they were working on a sound basis.

The village of Dorchester, Wisconsin has a population of only 700, but it now has in operation a pea canning factory which cost about $45,000, owned by residents of the town and by the farmers in that vicinity. This plant has just completed its first year of operation, said Mr. Bretschy, and while the season was an adverse one, and very few first-grade peas were grown, the stockholders will realize about 15 per cent on their investment, and are so well satisfied with the industry that they are planning to enlarge the plant and greatly increase its capacity.

"We canned 35,000 cases of peas this season," said Mr. Bretschy, "from 412 acres of crop. Our biggest day's canning was 80,000 cans, but the average done in a day is about 50,000 cans. Our machines have a capacity of 120 cans per minute when worked to their maximum speed."

A farmer can care for about five acres of peas, continued the speaker, and the average profit per acre is from $40 to $60, after all expenses have been paid, although as high as $150 per acre have been realized in very good years. This is in addition to the dividends realized on the sale of the canned product which this year netted 15 per cent.

A pea canning factory is a wonderful thing for the farmers of any community, contends Mr. Bretschy. In his section of Wisconsin he claims that it has made the farmer financially independent. This result is from two causes. First the farmers had been depending upon potatoes for their cash crop, and potatoes either from poor yields or low prices were not a paying investment year in and year out, while a failure in pea growing has never been known. Also the raising of peas, which are a legume crop, puts fertility into the land instead of taking it out, and is greatly increasing the value of farm lands wherever it is raised.

The district around Dorchester is devoted largely to dairying, and the dairy farmer is especially benefited by raising peas, for the vines make an excellent feed for dairy cattle, and this forage from four or five acres helps in a large way to solve his feeding problems.

Mr. Bretschy, in speaking of the establishment of a pea canning plant in Brainerd, advised against going into the proposition without a thorough investigation of its merits. He strongly urged that a committee of representative business men and farmers visit the canning factory at St. Cloud, which is close by and which is proving a really big success. He also suggested that the committee make the trip to Dorchester to interview both farmers and business men there, who could give them an idea of the part he has played in the establishment of that factory.

He stated that a model plant, one that would handle the crop from about 500 acres, would cost from $35,000 to $45,000, and in good years would pay the stockholders as high as 60 or even 80 per cent on their investment. He is not especially interested in starting a plant in Brainerd for next season, since there are four towns in the vicinity of his home that are planning to have him establish plants for them to handle next year's crop, and he will be kept very busy with that work.

Mr. Bretschy is staying in Brainerd for a day or two, interviewing farmers and business men of this vicinity to gain an idea of whether or not they desire to organize a company and start a canning factory. He will be glad to go into detail in this matter with any and all who are interested.

J. E. O'BRIEN TELLS OF FLORIDA BOOM

Brings Back Interesting Stories of Remarkable Development

EMBARGO ON LUMBER, ETC.

And Practically Every Other Line of Merchandise Except Foodstuffs

J. E. O'Brien, of the Northern Home Furnishing Company, has returned from Miami, Florida, bringing back some interesting stories of the boom that state is enjoying.

An embargo has been placed on building material, and practically every other line of merchandise except foodstuffs, said Mr. O'Brien, passenger trains being sidetracked to give food trains the right-of-way.

There are so many towns springing up on each side of Miami and they are located so close together that it seems like one continuous city about 523 miles in length, from Jacksonville south to Key West.

Train service is being handled just as rapidly as possible, and Mr. O'Brien noted 160 carloads of express matter in the yards at Miami that were as yet unloaded because of the lack of adequate facilities to handle the enormous amount of freight received. Passenger trains carrying 16 sleepers in addition to their regular equipment are not an uncommon sight, and passenger schedules are necessarily slow because of the frequent stops on account of the many towns enroute, some being only about a mile apart.

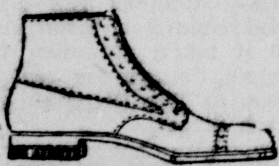

Fourteen buildings were in the course of construction at Miami, each one larger than the Soo Line building in Minneapolis. A very large part of the population of that section of Florida have just arrived in the state, and because of inadequate housing facilities, thousands are living in tents.

Mr. O'Brien saw a revenue cutter chasing a bootlegger's craft in the bay at Miami, which led him to believe that Florida has its liquor difficulties as well as other states. The revenue men quickly overhauled the bootlegger craft.

SEN. SHIPSTEAD TO SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Senator Henrik Shipstead will arrive in Brainerd shortly after noon Friday and will attend the meeting of the progressives of this district to be held in the Trades and Labor hall at 2:30 o'clock. Friends from Cass, Wadena, Aitkin, Morrison, Beltrami and Todd counties have indicated that they would attend this meeting. Senator Shipstead will speak in Bemidji Saturday and these two meetings will be the only opportunities to hear him before the convening of congress.

An opportunity will be given to meet the senator after the meetings in the afternoon and evening.

"GET TOGETHER WEEK" IN CHURCH

First Presbyterian Church Plans Sessions For Mutual Uplift And Help

TO BEGIN SUNDAY SEPT. 27

Rev. Alexander Patterson to Take as His Subject the Book of Genesis

The First Presbyterian church is planning a "Get Together Week" for mutual uplift, beginning on next Sunday, September 27th, and closing on October 4th, continuing through the week every evening at 7:30 o'clock except Saturday.

The history of the Christian church has shown the needs at certain seasons of spiritual awakening, it is contended, and the week's meetings are planned with the thought of helping all who attend.

Rev. Alexander Patterson, the pastor, will take for his subject the book of Genesis, making that book live in the present year, connecting it up with present day experiences.

Miss Alberta Patterson, who has spent considerable time in a trip around the world, will show what progress the gospel is making in other lands. She gave special attention to this while on her trip through Japan, China, Siam, Burma, India, Egypt and the Holy Land. She will take her hearers into those lands and give a very graphic picture of how the people there live, together with some of the efforts that have been made to help them.

One evening Miss Patterson expects to show stereopticon pictures of Palestine, and on Friday evening, October 2nd, she expects to show curios, costumes and articles procured in the various countries visited, and direct a pageant in which those costumes will be shown.

The meeting will be full of interest from start to finish, and are so planned that all may be greatly helped by attending them. The public is giving a hearty invitation to be present.

Participated in Big Tourist Tournament Staged by Brainerd Country Club

William W. Loomis, president of the Citizen Publishing Company, of LaGrange, Illinois, which publishes the LaGrange Citizen, writes in that newspaper some very graphic and interesting accounts of the vacation he spent during the past summer in the Brainerd lake region.

Mr. Loomis is an ardent golfer and participated in the big tourist tournament staged by the Brainerd Country club several months ago, being one of the prize winners. In a letter to J. H. Kinkelberg, of the tournament committee, he writes:

"You may recall our talking with you on your Tourists' Golf Day at the Country club, and I told you I would send you clippings of the articles I wrote to the La Grange Citizen. I am enclosing some of these articles in which you may be interested."

"There were 15 in our party from La Grange, and all agreed that it was the finest vacation we have ever had. We hope to be back that way again."

In Mr. Loomis' stories to his paper he wrote among other things:

"Tourists are made welcome at all the courses for very modest green fees and at Brainerd a tournament is being put on Sunday for every resort within a hundred miles. The Brainerd people will furnish prizes, all of which go to visitors, and no fees are charged for the day."

"It is just a little investment in hospitality which is making a real hit with the golfers. As the Brainerd course is sandy, white clover does not thrive there, and the fairways are really 'fair.'"

EMBARGO ON TEXAS CATTLE IN FORCE HERE

FOLLOWS ACTION TAKEN BY THE STATE LIVESTOCK SANITARY BOARD

NECESSARY AS PRECAUTION TO PREVENT SPREAD OF ROOF AND MOUTH DISEASE

St. Paul, Sept. 24.—(UP)—An embargo on all cattle from Texas was in force throughout Minnesota today by action of the state livestock sanitary board.

Officials explained the embargo was necessary as a precaution against spread of the hoof and mouth disease, following issuance of an injunction by Texas courts restraining authorities from enforcing a strict quarantine in sections where the disease is prevalent.

NERVOUS MARKET RULES

New York, Sept. 24.—Great nervousness was manifested in today's market, due to apprehension in the speculative community lest the local federal reserve directors might see fit to advance the rediscount rate at this afternoon's meeting.

Professionals were bearish and the prevailing uncertainty afforded a convenient pretext for marking prices down. This process went ahead with considerable aggressiveness in American Can, General Electric, Studebaker, Mack Trucks, White, United States Steel and other leaders of the recent rapid advance in the industrials.

Substantial recessions were forced in these issues, which were under pressure most of the day.

However, the selling movement did not spread to the rails. C. & O. reached the best levels of its history and new highs on the movement were attained by New York Central and Norfolk & Western.

The market closed lower.

MANKATO BUS LINE HEARING ADJOURNS TODAY

WILL REOPEN AT THE STATE CAPITOL ON FRIDAY MORNING

OBJECTIONS TO BUS EXTENSIONS OFFERED BY LABOR AND OTHER INTERESTS

Mankato, Minn., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Hearing by the railroad and warehouse commission of a petition for additional bus lines in southern Minnesota stood adjourned today until Friday morning when it will reopen at the state capitol.

The Boulevard Transportation company, recently optioned by the Northland Transportation company, a holding company of the Great Northern railroad, is the petitioner. The statement presented yesterday by the Omaha railroad, said that the would not consider institution of bus service despite competition of motor carriers.

Objections to granting the petition were offered by representatives of labor and affected cities.

Seventeen witnesses were called by the forces opposing the proposed bus lines.

CARING ADEQUATELY FOR AGED DEPENDENTS

St. Paul, Sept. 24.—(UP)—The problem of adequately caring for aged dependents in the state was discussed at the Minnesota state conference and institute of social work at the university farm here by E. C. Teachout, Faribault.

He said more than 67,000 persons in Minnesota are more than 70 years old and that 19 out of 20 are totally or partially dependent. He advocated "Sunset Homes" built jointly by counties and the state as a solution for the problem.

The progress made in Minnesota in social welfare work was shown today in an exhibit open to the public in the engineering building of the university farm.

Sale Of Remarkable Preparation Starts Early Today at Johnson's Pharmacy and the Economy Drug Co., and Every Other Reliable Drug Store.

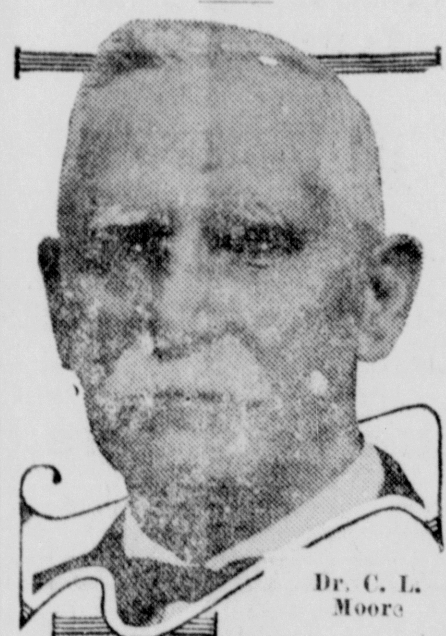

Has Had Phenomenal Success

Karnak, the remarkable new medicine that has created such a sensation by its amazing powers to restore health, strength and energy, is now on sale in Brainerd at Johnson's Pharmacy and the Economy Drug Co., and by every other reliable druggist in Brainerd.

An initial shipment of the preparation, rushed by express, arrived here last night and was ready for the public when the doors opened this morning. Even at that early hour news that Karnak was here had leaked out and great interest was being manifested in the medicine that is accomplishing such wonderful results.

Indorsed By Prominent Physician

After Searching Investigation, Dr. Charles L. Moore Indorses Sensational Medicine in Highest Terms.

Dr. C. L. Moore

The highest tribute that can possibly be paid a proprietary medicine has just been accorded Karnak, the sensational new medicine that is accomplishing such remarkable results.

Dr. Chas. L. Moore, a physician of 48 years general practice, comes out and states in unconditional terms that Karnak is without a doubt a most extraordinary medicine. Such indorsement is indeed convincing, for the physician will not recommend any medicine until he positively knows it will produce the results.

"I am frank to say that Karnak is the most efficient medicine I have ever used for building up a rundown sluggish system," declares Dr. Moore.

Dr. Moore has spent 48 years in the practice of medicine in Georgia. He is now retired and resides at 1168 Peachtree street, Atlanta.

Following is Dr. Moore's report on his test of Karnak:

"In my 48 years of active practice I have never been an advocate of the unlimited use of the majority of the medicines, but after my own experience with Karnak, I do not hesitate to recommend this medicine to anyone."

"My own personal experience with Karnak is that it increases my appetite to where I eat like a growing boy. It thoroughly cleansed my system of all impurities, and I actually feel ten years younger as a result of taking Karnak."

"I sleep soundly, feel energetic and full of vitality. In fact, I am like a different man and have actually gained 8 pounds. Karnak Pills, together with Karnak, entirely relieved me of constipation."

"On the whole, I am confident that Karnak is a most extraordinary medicine and will be of great benefit to anyone. I intend to continue advising its use universally."

"I strongly recommend, however, that at least four bottles of Karnak be taken. The first two bottles will cause a favorable reaction but I know that in most cases two more bottles will be advisable."

The discovery of Karnak, the amazing results it has produced, and the marvelous success it has achieved, reads more like fiction than facts from latter day commercial history.

Just about one year ago Karnak was first introduced in America and placed on sale in Wichita, Kansas. So great was the interest in this new medical discovery that within one week's time over 1,200 bottles had been distributed to the public in that city. The results produced by the medicine were astounding. Nothing like it had ever been seen before.

THOUSANDS QUICKLY RESTORED TO HEALTH

Wichita men and women by the hundreds, of all ages, in all walks of life, received the most astonishing and gratifying results. Miserable people reported that they had been entirely relieved of their distressing symptoms and were restored to complete health and happiness as a result of this amazing medicine.

News of the astounding success of Karnak in Wichita quickly spread over the entire state of Kansas and every city, town and village in the state were wiring and writing for Karnak and being supplied as quickly as was humanly possible.

The adjoining states of Oklahoma, Missouri and Iowa began clamoring for Karnak. Telegrams began pouring into the Karnak laboratories from leading druggists all over the states, seeking arrangements for shipment of the sensational medicine to their communities. The demand was overwhelming.

OVER 500,000 BOTTLES SOLD IN 10 MONTHS

The success of Karnak in Wichita, Kansas, was duplicated everywhere it was put on sale, and the medicine has now become the biggest seller in the history of the drug trade of that section. In the short space of ten months over 500,000 bottles of Karnak has been sold in the above territory and the demand is increasing daily by leaps and bounds.

Briefly, this is the history of the truly great medicine, Karnak, that is being placed within the reach of the people of Brainerd.

EMBARGO ON TEXAS CATTLE IN FORCE HERE

FOLLOWS ACTION TAKEN BY THE STATE LIVESTOCK SANITARY BOARD

NECESSARY AS PRECAUTION TO PREVENT SPREAD OF ROOF AND MOUTH DISEASE

St. Paul, Sept. 24.—(UP)—An embargo on all cattle from Texas was in force throughout Minnesota today by action of the state livestock sanitary board.

Officials explained the embargo was necessary as a precaution against spread of the hoof and mouth disease, following issuance of an injunction by Texas courts restraining authorities from enforcing a strict quarantine in sections where the disease is prevalent.

NERVOUS MARKET RULES

New York, Sept. 24.—Great nervousness was manifested in today's market, due to apprehension in the speculative community lest the local federal reserve directors might see fit to advance the rediscount rate at this afternoon's meeting.

Professionals were bearish and the prevailing uncertainty afforded a convenient pretext for marking prices down. This process went ahead with considerable aggressiveness in American Can, General Electric, Studebaker, Mack Trucks, White, United States Steel and other leaders of the recent rapid advance in the industrial.

Substantial recessions were forced in these issues, which were under pressure most of the day. However, the selling movement did not spread to the rails. C. & O. reached the best levels of its history and new highs on the movement were attained by New York Central and Norfolk & Western.

The market closed lower.

MANKATO BUS LINE HEARING ADJOURNS TODAY

WILL REOPEN AT THE STATE CAPITOL ON FRIDAY MORNING

OBJECTIONS TO BUS EXTENSIONS OFFERED BY LABOR AND OTHER INTERESTS

Mankato, Minn., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Hearing by the railroad and warehouse commission of a petition for additional bus lines in southern Minnesota stood adjourned today until Friday morning when it will reopen at the state capitol.

The Boulevard Transportation company, recently optioned by the Northland Transportation company, a holding company of the Great Northern railroad, is the petitioner. The statement presented yesterday by the Omaha railroad, said that line would not consider institution of bus service despite competition of motor carriers.

Objections to granting the petition were offered by representatives of labor and affected cities.

Seventeen witnesses were called by the forces opposing the proposed bus lines.

KING IN DOPE RING TAKEN AT TAMPA, FLORIDA

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Federal agents captured 18, including the alleged "king" and his aides of higher ups in a gigantic dope ring during the night, involving virtually all southern states and seized $1,000,000 worth of narcotics, which is only a small portion of what is expected to be taken, according to the agents.

CARING ADEQUATELY FOR AGED DEPENDENTS

St. Paul, Sept. 24.—(UP)—The problem of adequately caring for aged dependents in the state was discussed at the Minnesota state conference and institute of social work at the university farm here by E. C. Teachout, Fairbault.

He said more than 67,000 persons in Minnesota are more than 70 years old and that 19 out of 20 are totally or partially dependent. He advocated "Sunset Homes" built jointly by counties and the state as a solution for the problem.

The progress made in Minnesota in social welfare work was shown today in an exhibit open to the public in the engineering building of the university farm.

N. D. NORMAL IS DAMAGED $30,000

HEAVY PROPERTY LOSS AT MAYVILLE INSTITUTION CAUSED BY WATER AND SMOKE

Mayville, N. D., Sept. 24.—(UP)—Fire at the Mayville Normal here did damage estimated at $30,000. Most of the property loss was from water and smoke.

Fire departments from Hillsboro, Northwood and Grand Forks helped confine the blaze to the basement.

The fire is thought to have started from defective wiring or spontaneous combustion.

C. B. Swain, president, said school would open Monday despite the condition of the building.

Results From Karnak Are Guaranteed

Karnak is sold under a strict guarantee that the first two bottles will produce beneficial results or the purchase price will be refunded without question. Both the manufacturers and the Brainerd druggists stand squarely behind this guarantee.

This policy was announced by Mr. L. M. Carroll, of Karnak, Incorporated, and Mr. Chas. D. Johnson, of Johnson's Pharmacy and the Economy Drug Co.

"Our guarantee amounts simply to this," said Mr. Carroll. "Anyone who purchases two bottles of Karnak and is not benefited by it may get their money back without question."

Mr. Johnson said: "We would like to assure everyone that the policies of Karnak, Inc., with reference to the impartial distribution and guarantee of Karnak will be carried out to the letter."

"Any person, who is not benefited by the first two bottles of Karnak may return here and get their money without question."—Adv.

Simple Mixture Makes Stomach Feel Fine

Simple buckthorn bark, magnesium sulph. c. p., glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, helps stomach trouble in TEN minutes by removing GAS. Brings out a surprising amount of old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Stops that full, bloated feeling and makes you happy and cheerful. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Adlerika works quick and delightfully easy. Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co.—Adv.
